DIRECTIONS:

Use this checklist to monitor students who come to your office with a head injury. Students should be monitored for a minimum of 30 minutes. Check for signs or symptoms when the student first arrives at your office, 15 minutes later, and at the end of 30 minutes.

Students who experience one or more of the signs or symptoms of concussion after a bump, blow, or jolt to the head should be referred to a healthcare professional with experience in evaluating for concussion. For those instances when a parent is coming to take the student to a healthcare professional, observe the student for any new or worsening symptoms right before the student leaves. Send a copy of this checklist with the student for the healthcare professional to review.

To download this checklist in Spanish, please visit cdc.gov/HEADSUP. Para obtener una copia electrónica de esta lista de síntomas en español, por favor visite cdc.gov/HEADSUP.

Danger signs:

Be alert for symptoms that worsen over time. The student should be seen in an emergency department right away if she or he has one or more of these danger signs:

- One pupil (the black part in the middle of the eye) larger than the other
- Drowsiness or cannot be awakened
- A headache that gets worse and does not go away
- Weakness, numbness, or decreased coordination
- Repeated vomiting or nausea
- Slurred speech
- Convulsions or seizures
- Difficulty recognizing people or places
- Increasing confusion, restlessness, or agitation
- Unusual behavior
- Loss of consciousness (even a brief loss of consciousness should be taken seriously)

Additional information about this checklist:

This checklist is also useful if a student appears to have sustained a head injury outside of school or on a previous school day. In such cases, be sure to ask the student about possible sleep symptoms. Drowsiness, sleeping more or less than usual, or difficulty falling asleep may indicate a concussion.

To maintain confidentiality and ensure privacy, this checklist is intended for use only by appropriate school professionals, healthcare professionals, and the student's parent(s) or guardian(s).

Resolution of injury:

Student returned to class
Student sent home

Student referred to healthcare professional with experience in evaluating for concussion

Revised 2020

How Sick is 'too sick' to attend school?

Here are five reasons for keeping a child at home:

FEVER: Temperature of 100 or above. Child should remain fever free without fever-reducing medication for 24 hours.

VOMITING or DIARRHEA: Your child should not attend school if they have vomited in the last 24 hours OR have diarrhea or have had diarrhea in the last 24 hours.

UNDIAGNOSED RASH: Your child should not attend school until rash has been diagnosed and treated for 24 hours.

PINK EYE: This is highly contagious. Your child should be treated for 24 hours before returning to school.

HEAD LICE: Your child should not attend school if live bugs are present. Your child should be treated and have no live bugs prior to returning to school.

Please feel free to call with any concerns! Thank You!

Your School Nurse
